

BIOGRAPHY

UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

COLONEL KEITH A. SCHELL

Colonel Keith A. Schell is the Maintenance Group Commander for the 155th Air Refueling Wing, Nebraska Air National Guard. The wing contributes to the Air Force Global Reach mission by supporting U.S. and allied military forces worldwide with aerial refueling and transportation of passengers and cargo.

Col Schell began his career in June of 1981 when he enlisted in the Nebraska Air National Guard as a Photo Processor Specialist working in the 155 Tactical Reconnaissance Group's Photo Processing Interpretation Facility (PPIF). After becoming the Production Control Supervisor in the PPIF he was selected to attend Undergraduate Pilot Training (UPT). Col Schell was commissioned in Dec 1986 as a Second Lieutenant at the Air National Guard's Academy of Military Science located at McGhee Tyson ANGB, Knoxville, TN. Following his graduation from UPT he attended RF-4C RTU in Boise, ID. Upon completion of RF-4C RTU Col Schell was assigned as a RF-4C Aircraft Commander in the 173rd Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron (TRS). While in the Squadron he served as Intelligence Officer. Following his upgrade to instructor pilot in the RF-4C he was temporarily assigned to Torrejon Air Force Base, Madrid, Spain and later to Choo Won Air Base South Korea where he instructed the Spanish and South Korean RF-4 Pilots on the Navigational Weapons Delivery System. He converted to the KC-135R in June of 1994. Col Schell served in various positions in the 173 Air Refueling Squadron including the Flying Training Officer, Deputy Chief of Current Operations, Evaluator Pilot, Chief of Standardization and Evaluation, and as the Squadron Director of Operations. While in the Squadron Col Schell was appointed to and served as the Air National Guard's lead KC-135R Instructor Pilot in charge of the planning, development, and implementation of the Global Air Transportation Management (GATM) System modification. He participated in the worldwide Operational Testing and Evaluation of the GATM system. He was subsequently assigned as the 155 Air Refueling Wing Executive Officer.
